Reflection

Today is the Sunday of Divine Mercy. I have had the privilege of visiting the Sanctuary of the Divine Mercy in Lagiewnicki in the suburb of Krakow in Poland four times and I am always surprised by this sense of peace, forgiveness and healing when you witness the nuns reciting the Chaplet of the Divine Mercy at 3pm in the Convent chapel.

On this Sunday of Divine Mercy, feel being in the presence of the Holy Spirit like the Early Christians in the Temple of Jerusalem and their celebration of the breaking of bread in their homes on a daily basis. Give thanks to Sr. Faustyna who had a vision of the Risen Lord with two shafts of light, red and white, streaming from his heart as the fount of Mercy which has brought many people back or closer to the Risen Lord.

Believe even though you have not seen. If we believe and trust in God's forgiveness, mercy and healing, we will be freed from the death of sin.

We would ask people to please return your Trócaire boxes to the sacristy or the parish office.
